The Canadian Coast Guard (CCG) Inshore Rescue Boat Service (IRB) in Kelsey Bay is once again operational. It is a seasonal Search and Rescue (SAR) This will be 7th year in operation at this location, from May long weekend through to the end of Labour Day weekend (September 10th).

Their area of operation ranges from the tip of West Cracroft Island to the northwest, bisecting Sonora Island in the southeast. These areas are bordered by support from additional IRB stations in Sointula on Malcolm Island, as well as on Cortes Island.

CCG IRB stations are operated 24/7 by two crews on two-week shift rotations. Each crew is comprised of a CCG Rescue Specialist Coxswain, and supported by two student crew members, selected from the Federal Student Work Experience Program (FSWEP). If you see Coast Guard 504 Kelsey Bay crew members at the dock or in the community, feel free to say hello!

The rescue platform is a 733 Zodiac Hurricane, capable of responding to marine distresses at over 40 knots. The crew is trained to respond to a variety of marine emergencies including medical calls.

To report a marine emergency, call CCG toll-free at 1-800-567-5111, on VHF channel 16, or #727 (SAR) on a mobile device.

Garden Club News

This Spring has seen a return to a more typical west coast weather pattern with a good mix of sun and rain. Most vegetables grow well in these conditions but the cucumbers would like a bit more sun. Some gardeners use plastic domes to keep the cucs warmer. You have to be careful to remove the domes on a full sun day or you might cook the plants by getting them too hot.

Fruit trees can be pruned in the summer. This is needed if you don't want the pruned part to grow back. This is specially true in regard to "suckers" that grow straight up due to previous winter pruning. Doing this pruning in the late summer will avoid regrowth but if you want to get started on this process early in the summer any tender regrowth can be easily removed later in the summer using hand pruners.

The June Garden Club meeting featured a discussion of permaculture gardening. Permaculture embraces a wide range of principles but one major feature is permanent beds that are not turned over or tilled. Compost, mulch, lime, seaweed and other organic materials are used to feed the soil from above. This mimics the natural systems in forests or grasslands where the structure of the soil is undisturbed.

At every meeting there is an opportunity to ask questions and share in the knowledge of our experienced gardeners. After our summer break we will meet again in September. Please come and join us then. Happy gardening.

Alertable Emergency Phone Notification System

The Village of Sayward in conjunction with the Strathcona Regional District uses Alertable as our public emergency mass notification service.

Alertable can notify residents, visitors, and businesses of emergencies in a timely manner to people who subscribe to receive these alerts. It can also be used to notify residents of other non-emergency items such as scheduled road closures, power outages, water and sewer alerts, and much more. This service is free.

The system is compatible with mobile phones, tablets, computers or smart speakers. It can also send alerts via text message, voice calls to land lines, and e-mail.

The link to sign up for this system is located on the Village website here: https://www.sayward.ca/municipal-services/emergency-services/alertsnotifications

Sayward Clinic Corner

Sayward Primary Healthcare Clinic

This is a reminder to everyone that if you have any symptoms of illness such as COVID, the flu or a cold, you should be isolating. This does not mean it is ok to go to the store, the library, the Kelsey Center or any other public location. Parents, if you child was kept home from school due to illness, then they should not be going to the library or afterschool program.

There have been an increasing number of people who are becoming very disrespectful to staff. Island Health has a no tolerance policy and violence, foul language and abusive behaviours are not acceptable.

Due to increased number of staff shortages at the Campbell River Hospital, it is becoming more common for the cancellation of the lab tech coming to Sayward. NP Tracey has been covering these absences when she can. NP Tracey cannot see you for any other health concern during your lab appointment. You will have to make another appointment.

As stated before, the clinic is a lot busier now than even a year ago. Please plan ahead with prescription renewals. It is commonly a 2-3 day wait to be seen. While you might not like this, we are still seeing patients faster than almost every clinic on the island. Prescriptions also must be done by having a conversation with the Nurse Practitioner

PUBLIC NOTICE

2025 PERMISSIVE TAX EXEMPTIONS

Council is beginning the process for considering Permissive Tax Exemptions for the 2025 taxation year.

A permissive tax exemption is a means for Council to support organizations within the community which further Council's objectives of enhancing quality of life (economic, social, cultural) and delivering services economically. A policy guide is available to help identify organizations that meet Council's objectives.

The Policy and application are available at the Village office and on our website. Applications must be received at the Village by August 1st to be considered for 2025. Questions about the process can be directed to cao@saywardvalley.ca.

Emergency Preparedness Corner

The main theme this month is – Always Be Emergency Ready

No matter the weather or the weather forecast, an emergency situation can happen at any time. A major earthquake is just one example.

Previous mutli-year indications were that you may need to take care of yourself for up to 72 hours during a declared emergency. Due to climate change activity this time frame is now frequently being cited as up to two weeks.

Your municipal, regional, provincial, and federal levels of government continue to ramp up readiness resources where possible but, in the end, your individual preparedness is your responsibility.

Some local updates –

FireSmart in person community presentations have happened recently. If you would like to book your free FireSmart Home Assessment, please contact the SRD's Wildfire Risk Reduction coordinator at www.srd.ca or 250-914-9234

New extra Seacans have arrived at the Kelsey Centre, Heritage Hall, and Fire Hall #2 and will in the future be stocked with further emergency supplies for our area as additional support resources should a declared emergency occur.

Yes, it feels pretty good that our area has had a fair bit of moisture so far this springtime but as summer is only beginning that could change quickly as it is already doing in other parts of Canada and the USA not to mention other parts of the world. So here's that theme again – Always Be Emergency Ready! (ABER)

Here's a list of very basic considerations for everyone relative to emergency readiness and numbered in no priority order – I call it the " Do it Dozen " aka – DID)

1. Water
2. Food
3. Prescription Medicines
4. Shelter
5. First Aid
6. Contact Numbers
7. Important Papers
8. Adequate clothing
9. Light sources
10. Transportation sources
11. Communication sources
12. Battery or Fuel available for the above 3 sources

The Sayward Neighbourhood Emergency Preparedness Program (NEPP) updates:

Your EPC has begun posting occasional emergency preparedness tips on the Around Sayward Face Book page as part of a virtual support for key aspects of the Neighbourhood Emergency Preparedness connections aspects of the program.

Other general reminders:

-- ESS - To learn about becoming an (ESS) Volunteer, email your Emergency Program Coordinator at epc@saywardvalley.ca and I will email you a PowerPoint presentation with more information for your potential consideration of this opportunity. Don't forget the new online one day course as mentioned above for those that prefer that type of program as it is designed to get many more people skilled in this area of potential help.

-- WALKIE TALKIE WEDNESDAYS - Sayward Walkie Talkie Wednesday – 6:30PM to 7:00PM each Wednesday. Continue to test your Walkie Talkie radio on channel 4 in that time slot and see who you can connect with. Thanks to all those who have 'Walked on over to Walkie Talkie ' radio ownership and use as another took in their emergency preparedness.

-- HAM RADIO OPERATORS – FYI – The Sayward EOC has a call sign of VA7 SRU and makes every effort to participate in the EMCR Wed Evening net that starts at 7:15PM on each Wednesday on the Island Trunk System. After EOCs (Emergency Operation Centre) from Vancouver Island have checked in then check ins are taken by the Net Controller from all other HAMs by regional area from North to South. Sayward EOC hopes to hear you on the net at sometime and thanks for your radio skills as always.

Also – The BC Public Services Net is another good net available to all HAMS and EOC operators and covers an even larger area of Net participants. The Sayward EOC makes every effort to participate in this Net also on Wednesday nights.

Motto for this Month – I know I Did the DID (Do It Dozen) and I'm Ready

Enjoy the Summer but BE Safe and Be Smart

Good day Sayward

My name is John France and I am running for your council. Sayward is a great little village and I want to make positive contributions for the benefit of all residents. I was your Chief Administrative Officer in 2017/2018 and since then, I have returned at the invitation of council for three successful periods to fill temporary vacancies left by departing CAOs.

Please consider the following:

Retired – I have the time and desire to serve Sayward as an elected official for the next two years.

34 Years of experience in local government working as Chief Financial Officer, Chief Administrative Officer and Corporate Officer.

Worked effectively/cooperatively with many Boards and Councils.

Collaborated with council, residents and the community to find mutually acceptable solutions.

Broad experience in financial management, administration and contract management.

I bring considerable experience and training in local government to Sayward. This experience will help Sayward through the current challenging governance issues – SRD Fire Services proposal, contract management, OCP renewal, First Nation engagement and administrative processes. Respectful work environments and sensible financial management are key to making successful choices. Your hard-earned tax payments to the village must be used wisely, efficiently and effectively. Thank you for giving me consideration.

To my fellow residents,
I have proudly lived in Sayward for 35 years, working and raising my family and am now a candidate for the Village of Sayward Council.

As a dedicated, and proven team player I understand the importance of working collaboratively towards solutions — I am committed to listening to your concerns, taking decisive, and informed action to address the critical issues facing our community and ensuring that no voice goes unheard.

My husband and I are retired and while we enjoy travelling, if elected, I am committed to be in Sayward full-time allowing me to serve the residents of the village to the best of my ability, just as I have in the past in various capacities.

Defamation lawsuit sheds light on fractious Sayward Village council

Kendall Hanson

Posted: May 22, 2024 8:17AM | Last Updated: May 22, 2024 9:27AM

A lawsuit by the mayor of Sayward against the village's former chief administrative officer is shedding light on some of the friction among the council and a councillor who has since stepped down.

Mayor Mark Baker is suing John France for defamation. The lawsuit alleges France defamed him in multiple posts on a Facebook group called Sayward Rants and Raves by referencing a previous sexual harassments complaint.

The 61-year-old mayor claims the defamation began in August 2023 and continued until March 2024.

The suit lays out events that led up to the defamation.

Around [illegible], Coun. Burchett and the former chief [illegible] travelled to Nanaimo to attend a municipal conference. The three of them stayed at the [illegible] hotel.

Talia Clark, Burchett's girlfriend, arrived at the hotel on the second night of the conference to spend time with him.

Shortly after the conference, Clark filed a complaint with the Village of Sayward alleging Baker had put his hand on Clark's shoulder to indicate to a table of acquaintances at a restaurant that she was with him. Clark was with the mayor's group, that he gave councillor Gilken advice "in regards to women" and made a "number of sexual comments" while at the Nanaimo hotel restaurant or bar, and that he looked at Burchett's girlfriend in the morning in the lobby of the Nanaimo hotel after Burchett mentioned that he had been with her.

The complaint alleged Baker had put his hand on her arm and shoulder at a previous event.

The lawsuit says it is plausible that Clark did not allege that the Sayward mayor touched her in a sexual manner, made any sexual comments about her or otherwise made any advances of a sexual or intimate nature.

"Ms. Clark was not employed by the Village of Sayward and had no reason to attend council meetings, other than to cook up false allegations against the plaintiff at Mr. Burchett's urging," the lawsuit says.

It adds Baker did not [illegible] Clark, if [illegible], it was incidental contact and [illegible] he did not look her up and down at the [illegible].

Sayward's current [illegible] after interviewing those involved "concluded that [illegible] spending large sums of public money on a formal investigation."

The consulting firm recommended mediation.

After a meeting on [illegible], 2023 the suit says Baker wrote an apology to Clark.

The suit says [illegible] of his indignation, demanding a 'full investigation' and seeking unspecified punitive measures against the plaintiff," and that Clark "reported the innocuous conduct reported in her complaint to the RCMP."

It says the RCMP spoke with the plaintiff and concluded that the complaint did not merit further investigation.

The suit says after that Sayward's former Cheif Administrative Officer John France made numerous social media posts referring to the sexual harrassment of the mayor after, the Village of Sayward issued a summons to the defendant around Sept. 2, 2023 "to appear before council and answer questions about Mr. Burchett's breach of his obligations of confidentiality, given that Mr. France had received a copy of the Apology Letter."

France is alleged to have rebuffed the invitation through social media while referring to the mayor's sexual harassment behaviour multiple times.

As a direct result of the defamatory posts, the suit says Baker suffered grave harm to his reputation, both in the Sayward Valley and also more broadly in the Strathcona Regional District.

Baker's suit is calling for general, aggravated and punitive damages and other costs.

When contacted by CHEK News, John France said he would not comment at this time but he was working on filing his statement of defence.
